Defense Loses Fight Against Indictments

MARION, Ill., Nov. 9.—Judge D. T. Hartwell today denied a motion of defense attorneys to quash the indictments against the men charged with murder for their alleged connection with the Lester mine riots of last June and ordered the trial to proceed.

Simultaneously with the judge's refusal to quash the indictments, Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois mine workers, issued a statement declaring that in Tuesday's election in Williamson county, the voters had elected every candidate supported by the union, "despite the fact that Attorney General Brundage, himself a Republican, urged the citizens of Williamson to repudiate at the polls every Republican who could be suspected of union sympathies."

Proposed Exposition Defeated by Oregon

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 9.—The proposed Oregon 1927 exposition has been defeated at the polls, late returns indicated.

A majority of over 6000 votes against the measure is shown in the latest count with remaining up-state precincts expected to increase the negative vote. The measure provided for raising $2,000,000 by taxation of Portland property over a period of three years to hold the exposition.

RAIN STARTS AND STOPS AND STARTS

Weather Man Has Fearful
Time Trying to Decide on
Just What to Do

Glendale was visited this morning by a rainbow. The most vital question being asked about town today was: Why does it always stop raining when a person goes to the trouble to get up the storm curtains?

Another question of importance was: Why are raincoats so hot and uncomfortable when it stops raining?

A third question was: Why can't rubbers be ornamental as well as useful?

This afternoon a number of local families are having an animated discussion on the subject: What happened to the umbrella after it stopped raining?

Glendale's morning shower this morning was of short duration—just long enough to bathe the streets and homes—and the city was soon once more clothed in sunshine—for a few minutes—then it rained again.

Here's Some Figures.
According to the figures of the rain gauge at the H. E. Bartlett home, 333 West Broadway, .89 of an inch of rain fell this morning. Yesterday .19 of an inch fell and October 27 just .30. These three rafts make the total for the season of 1.38 inches.

Last November was much drier than this month is proving to be for only .99 of an inch fell during the entire month.

However, the total for last season was 27.52 inches and Jupiter Pluvius will have to jump himself to break that record.

PRISONERS AID MAN TO TAKE UP 'STRAIGHT' PATH
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9.—The fellowship that exists among the unfortunates in the county jail was revealed today when it became known that associates of Earl Rogers, a prisoner, raised enough money to pay his way to Tacoma, Wash. Rogers had been promised probation providing he would return to his parents, otherwise he was to be sent to San Quentin. He had no money to pay his way home. Fellow prisoners, hearing of his plight, took up a collection. He will go home and thenceforth "go straight" he said.

BEARS WANT TO GIVE OTHER TEAM PASADENA GAME
PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 9.—"We don't like to hog it all—we want to give some other team a chance to play at Pasadena." This was Coach Andy Smith's statement regarding the decision of University of California authorities to withdraw as a contender to represent the west in the East vs. West game on New Year's day. "We've gone two years in succession and we think it's time to call a halt," the Golden Bear coach said prior to watching his charges work out on Multnomah field this morning. He stated that the decision represented the opinion of alumni and students.

BRIDE SEEKS AID OF POLICE IN LOCATING HUSBAND
CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—A wealthy and beautiful bride today sought the aid of police in locating her husband of a few days who mysteriously disappeared yesterday and interrupted their honeymoon at a local hotel. The missing bridegroom is Allen Deecke, 46, said to have extensive property holdings in Colorado and other states and whose home is in San Francisco. His bride is Mrs. Jean Morris Lightman Deecke of Nashville, Tenn. According to the bride, Deecke disappeared while she was attending a matinee yesterday, leaving a note saying he would be back soon. Later she received a telegram signed by him from Elkhart, Ind., saying he had been detained on business. He has not appeared and search of Elkhart hotels failed to find him.

LLOYD GEORGE PRAISES HIS FORMER GOVERNMENT
CARDIFF, Wales, Nov. 9.—Former Premier Lloyd George today in opening a whirlwind political campaign in his Welsh homeland, extolled the former coalition government as one of the greatest benefactors of mankind since the war. "I am not ashamed of my government of the past six years," said Lloyd George. "It organized a great victory for peace and humanity. It carried through the League of Nations. Also, it made possible the disarmament conference at Washington, which has permanently reduced the cost and perils of armaments." Referring to Premier Law's "policy of tranquility," the former premier said: "Three weeks of the policy of peace—tranquility—has resulted in falling exchanges. Though France welcomed the coalition government's downfall, France has gone to the worst position she has occupied in many months."

ANNUAL REPORT OF CALIFORNIA FRUIT EXCHANGE
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9.—The citrus industry of California though handicapped by a bad freeze during January of this year, was able to supply 12,926,359 boxes of oranges and grapefruit to the markets of the United States and Canada, and 4,054,774 boxes of lemons, according to the annual report of E. G. Desell, general manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange today. California received $71,366,464 for the 1921-22 crop, Desell said. The delivered value in the markets was $95,993,485, which included $24,627,021 for freight and refrigeration. During the same period the exchange sold 27,438 carloads or 68.7 per cent of the state's total production of oranges, lemons and grapefruit for the members of the central organization at a cost of 7.7 cents a box, which Desell said, is less than the cost of ten years ago, and less than the present marketing cost of any other perishable agricultural crop.

L. A. COUNTY GOES FOR RICHARDSON BY OVER 65,000

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9.—With approximately 30 precincts in Los Angeles city and county still to be heard from, returns from Tuesday's election tabulated today show that Friend W. Richardson has carried the county by at least 65,000 over Thomas Lee Woolwine for governor, and Senator Hiram W. Johnson has won over William J. Pearson by more than two to one. Because of the larger vote for governor than for United States senator, Richardson's majority over Woolwine may be larger in the county than that of Johnson over Pearson, but the ratio of Johnson's victory is the greater. Returns from 1150 precincts give Richardson a lead of nearly 59,000 and Johnson a lead of about 50,000. It was definitely established today that Congressman Walter Lineberger had defeated former Congressman Charles H. Randall in the ninth district. Henry Z. Osborn, in the tenth district, was elected without opposition.

CHAIRMAN OF G. O. P. ISSUES FORMAL STATEMENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Pointing out that with very few exceptions the congress elected in off years has been of "opposite political faith to the administration," John T. Adams, chairman of the Republican national committee, in the first formal statement he has made since sweeping gains were made by the Democrats in Tuesday's election, declared this afternoon that the retention of Republican control in both the senate and house is very "gratifying." "The political off year always witnesses a decided reaction from the majorities of a presidential election," Adams said. "This is especially true in view of the spirit of unrest which prevails throughout this country as an aftermath of the great war. Such a spirit always visits its dissatisfaction upon whatever party may be in power. At such times the only thought that appeals to a great class of people is to 'vote for a change,' regardless of the issues involved or the records of the contending parties." Adams also explained that issues of "real importance" in some states took precedence over "national issues," and charged the Democrats with raising "fake issues" in other places to "befog the public." Adams declared that the results "do not change any of the fundamentally sound principles of economy and government" or "shake the determination of the Republican party and this administration to stand by these principles." "Today," he said, "the Republican party is more than ever the one party of construction and Americanism as against the forces of destruction and internationalism. Those who supported the Republican candidates in this election were fully appreciative of that fact."

Autos In Collision; Damage Is Slight

A collision occurred last night at about 7:30 o'clock at the intersection of Brand boulevard and Maple street between automobiles driven by H. H. Johnson of 509 East Windsor road and Ernest S. Depen of Los Angeles. Mr. Johnson was turning north on Brand boulevard from East Windsor road and did not see the other car approaching. The principal damage was to Mr. Depen's right rear mud guard and right running board.

Mr. Johnson is associated with W. C. Waring of 719 South Maryland avenue in the operation of the Army Navy Store.

Brings Evidence of Fine Apple Crops

Mrs. L. T. Rowley of 334 Vine street recently enjoyed a two days' visit from her brother, A. G. Newcomb and his wife and little daughter, Helen Virginia of Yucaipa. Mr. Newcomb, who is the owner of a fine apple orchard, brought down some fine specimens of this year's crop. The hot weather in September caused some little damage to the Delicious variety of fruit, but apparently did not injure the later varieties of Winesap's and Roman Beauties. He has one acre of cherries that have been very satisfactory in bearing.

DEMOCRAT WINNER.
TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 9.—In the Third congressional district with but one precinct missing, Charles Stephens, Democrat, has apparently won the race for congress from W. H. Sproul, his Republican opponent. Stephens is now leading by 1,464 votes.

Mrs. T. C. White of China Honored Guest

Mrs. T. C. White of Peking, China, formerly Princess Derling, was honored guest yesterday at an informal tea given by Mrs. D. E. Baxter at her home at 910 North Brand boulevard. Mrs. White and Mrs. Baxter were friends in China and the Baxters have enjoyed entertaining the Whites during their visit of the last few months in the United States.

Mrs. White, who is a member of one of the oldest and most prominent Manchu families, was educated in Paris and spent much time in America, where her father was one time Chinese ambassador. She and her husband have just been on a trip to New York and London and are now en route to their home in the Orient. They have a son who has been attending a northern California school preparatory to entering Yale University.

Mrs. F. A. Nagle to Return to Orient

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hanson of 340 Vine street are regretting the coming departure of their daughter, Mrs. F. A. Nagle, who will leave the latter part of the month for her home in China. Her husband, F. A. Nagle, is engaged in missionary work under the board of foreign missions of the Seventh-day Adventist church and has been stationed in China for more than twelve years. They returned to the United States for the World's conference in May, and have been enjoying a summer's furlough. Mr. Nagle left Sunday on his trip to the Orient and the family will join him soon. Their home will be in Waichow.

Richardson Proposes to Meet Pledges

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—With the latest returns from all parts of the state indicating that his majority for governor over Thomas Lee Woolwine will reach 175,000, governor-elect Richard W. Richardson served notice on the wasters at the public trough that they will have to go.

"The election is over and I propose to get to work at once to make good on my pledges," his statement reads. "I can and will save the people millions of dollars without, as I have often said, injuring any humane, progressive or educational state functions. State employees doing necessary and useful work need have no fear, but parasites have great cause for alarm. I will have no need for a political machine, as I have no concern as to my own political future. The governor is the business executive of the state and I propose to do my best to give the people a just economic, efficient, progressive and business administration. I propose to surround myself with men and women who are competent, regardless of political influence."

Democrats, Victors, Now Seeking Leader

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Flushed with the heady wine of victory greater than they had dared to anticipate, Democratic senators and congressmen began drifting back to the national capital today.

"Now for a Moses to lead us out of the wilderness." From a badly disorganized and indifferent minority in both branches of the sixty-seventh congress, the Democrats awoke today to find themselves politically powerful once more, and perilously close to being on even terms with the Republicans in both senate and house of the sixty-eighth congress.

The Republicans have retained theoretical control of both branches of congress, but the majorities are so slender that they dare not be leaned upon too heavily for fear they will crack under the strain. In the Republican majority in the senate are such insurgents as Borah, Idaho; La Follette, Wisconsin; Norris and Howell of Nebraska; Johnson of California; Norbeck of South Dakota; Ladd of North Dakota—men upon whom the iron hand of party discipline rests lightly, if at all. The same is true in large measures, of the Republican majority in the house.

In the sixty-eighth congress the Democrats will be in a position to throw brickbats into the Republican machinery almost whenever it pleases them—if they can get together, perfect an organization, and above all, find a leader. The Democrats are now flushed with victory—and leaderless. Two of the most prominent Democrats in the senate—Pomerene of Ohio, and Hitchcock of Nebraska, went down to defeat on Tuesday and on top of that Senator Oscar Underwood of Alabama has renounced his titular leadership of the minority in the present senate.

Swindlers by Mail Will Be Prosecuted

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Attorney-General Daugherty has completed plans and has issued orders for the speedy prosecution in the federal courts of the hundreds of alleged swindlers who are charged with "plundering the homes of the poor" of nearly $150,000,000 through fraudulent use of the United States mails. It was learned officially at the department of justice today.

Approximately 500 cases were said to be in the hands of United States attorneys throughout the country for consideration for "institution of criminal procedure and for action." Nearly 900 persons have been arrested or indicted in connection with the cases now before the courts. These cases represent a total loss to the public through the postal swindlers of $140,011,231.

The government has recorded 3852 cases distributed among different divisions of the department of justice.

The federal court in the northern district of Illinois leads with forty-five cases pending, the northern district of Texas is second with forty-two, and the southern district of New York is third with thirty-eight. Nebraska is credited with twenty-four cases, and the western district of Pennsylvania with nineteen.

The biggest number of large stock swindling cases have been filed in the western district of Missouri. Nebraska is second.

Shortage of Labor In U. S. Is Claimed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—An acute labor shortage in the United States and resulting high prices may be alleviated by raising the immigration bars by amending the present three per cent restrictive law, it was declared today in administration circles.

Measures proposing amendments to the immigration law to permit the entrance of industrial workers probably will be offered in the next congress, officials said.

Richardson, Johnson Majorities Increase

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—There were no upsets today in California's election returns.

Early indications were in all instances borne out by more complete figures which today represented about two-thirds of the vote of the state. There were indications today on the ratio of returns that the majority for Hiram Johnson would be between 350,000 and 450,000.

Friend Richardson's lead in the final count over Thomas Lee Woolwine will not be far short of 150,000 returns today showed. Governor-elect Richardson, who is at present state treasurer, was in Sacramento today making plans to carry out his pledges for economies in state administration.

"I propose to get to work at once to make good on my pledges," Richardson said in a statement before leaving for the state capital.

"I will and can save the people millions of dollars, without, as I have often said, injuring any humane, progressive or educational state functions."

The Republican victory in the state was so overwhelming that the interest almost from the start of the vote centered in the election of associate justices to the supreme court.

Justice Frank H. Kerrigan and Judge Emmet Sewell on the face of returns of which two-thirds of the state have apparently been elected although Sloane and Shurtloff are still within striking distance should late returns give either of them unexpected strength.

The veterans' validating law, the veterans' aid measure and the veterans' tax exemption law appear to have passed, the first two decisively.

May Require Recount to Decide Senatorship

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 9.—A recount, it was expected today, will be necessary to determine the winner in the race for United States senator. With ninety-five per cent of the vote in, Senator William H. King, seeking re-election, was leading his Republican opponent, Earnest Bamberger, by less than 400 votes. Approximately 50,000 votes were cast.

Congressional Fight Is Still In Doubt

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 9.—The congressional district was still in doubt today with latest reports showing W. H. Sproul, Republican, leading by twenty-five votes over his Democratic opponent, Charles Stephens. Sproul's campaign managers, however, are claiming he will win, but it may take the official count to definitely decide the matter.

and chiropractic amendments claimed victory today, although returns still are missing on these measures from many counties. They based their claim on the vote in Los Angeles where the measures carried two to one.

The Wright prohibition enforcement act and the water and power bill were decisively defeated. While the early indications of a two to one vote against the Wright law probably will not be borne out by a complete count the almost 60,000 majority returned against the measure in San Francisco insured its defeat, despite the fact that Los Angeles returned a majority of probably 15,000 in favor of it.

Spirit is the root of all things, eternally the same.

Revenue Chief Tells of Tax Liability

Collector of Internal Revenue Rex Goodcell yesterday cautioned religious, educational and charitable organizations regarding admission tax liability attached to the usual series of benefit entertainments which are staged during the Christmas holidays.

The collector pointed out that while many of these entertainments are tax-exempt, the mere fact that the organization giving the benefit performance is a purely charitable institution does not control the tax liability, for the character of the beneficiary must be taken into consideration. Failure to make a report and pay admission tax involves a fine of $1000, and Collector Goodcell advises all organizations that plan to give benefit entertainments to consult with the internal revenue office regarding admission tax liability in order that they may not, through misinterpretation of the revenue laws, lay themselves liable to the $1000 penalty.

During September the people of Los Angeles district drank approximately 13,000,000 gallons of soda water and other soft drinks, according to Collector of Internal Revenue Rex Goodcell.

The tax receipts for beverages and syrups amounted to $17,772.84 during the month and figured on this basis thirteen million gallons of soft drinks were consumed, enough to irrigate the Los Angeles river or supply Los Angeles' entire water needs for four hours.

With Collector Goodcell sitting tight on several million gallons of wine stored in bonded wineries and more than a hundred thousand gallons of whiskey, gin and brandy safely guarded in government warehouses, Californians evidently are turning to soft drinks, much to the delight of the manufacturers of non-alcoholic refreshments.

Suggests Jury Decide On Rail Injunction

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—A request that the question of making the famous Chicago rail injunction permanent be given to a jury to decide was made today by Attorney Donald R. Richberg, representing the former striking shopmen named in the temporary injunction, before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson.

Judge Wilkerson granted Attorney Richberg eight days in which to prepare a brief in support of his request and the same amount of time was granted counsel representing the government in which to file an opposing brief.

Charlie Denies He Intends to Marry

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—Charley Chaplin is not engaged. The famous film comedian, visiting here today, spiked the latest rumor which had him engaged to Miss Eleanor Boardman.

"I know Miss Boardman, of course," said Chaplin, "but only slightly. I have met her a few times but that is all. People seem to have a habit of engaging me to whoever I may be seen in a case with. This continually 'engaging' puts me in an embarrassing position, to say the least."

Chaplin said he was resting before starting to work as a director.

Election Results Please Farm Head

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—Defeat of "reactionary senators and representatives and the substitution of progressives" was characterized as a revolt against the landed aristocracy, the "great financiers" in a statement issued here today by Benjamin C. Marsh of Washington, D. C., managing director of the Farmers' National council. "Farmers are joining with labor to restore the government to the people, and won't stop until they have done so," the statement reads.

Results, he said, demonstrated the "fury of the farmers" of the west, northwest and southwest.

AMERICAN LEGION TO STAGE BOXING BOUTS
With a triple main event advertised for the American Legion fight program on Saturday night, Glendale boxing fans are in store for the best boxing dish ever served up within the city limits.

The fight, which are to be conducted by the Glendale Modern Woodmen of America under the auspices of Post No. 117, American Legion, will start promptly at 7 o'clock at the Legion hall, 610 East Broadway. This promises to be a grudge fight, as Kelly was recently declared winner in a battle with Southerner.

Propose Legal War Over School Measure
PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 9.—A legal fight, which will probably be carried to the supreme court of the United States, will be launched shortly to test the constitutionality of the compulsory public school attendance bill passed in Oregon at Tuesday's election.

Opponents were prepared today to engage the leading legal talent of the country to direct the campaign.

They claim that the bill infringes upon the private right of a parent to determine where the child will be educated and makes the child a ward of the state, is the contention of opponents of the measure. Two hundred lawyers of the state have declared it unconstitutional.

The measure is looked upon here by many as the first step in a campaign which seeks to abolish private elementary schools over the entire country. Oregon is the first state to pass the measure. It was passed by about 13,000 votes. It becomes effective in September, 1926.

Passage of the bill is but one of the many outbreaks of the bitter religious-political fights which ever swayed the electorate of Oregon.

The upheaval swept Walter Pierce, Democrat, into the governor's chair and brought about the election of Elton Watkins, Democrat, to the lower house of congress over C. N. McArthur, considered a fixture at Washington.

cers, literature and physical education and programs regarding these subjects are to be worked out at the various schools.

At the close of the meeting the company enjoyed tea and wafers served by Miss Hanson of the domestic science department.

The resolution read by Mrs. Brown included:
"Whereas, the state law governing elections pertaining to school matters states that the polls are to be open from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. on election days, and that the polls are to be open from 6 a. m. to 7 p. m. on other days, and whereas, Glendale and other suburban towns from which many men and women go to Los Angeles for employment, leaving before 8 a. m. and returning after 6 p. m., find that many of their voting population are not able to vote on account of the hours, thus depriving them of their constitutional right to express themselves and also handicap the school authorities of bond and other school elections.

Action Is Urged
"Therefore, be it resolved that the Glendale Federation of P-T. A. recommend that the necessary steps be taken to have the state law regarding voting at school elections be changed to conform with other voting hours."

"And, be it resolved, that copies adopted by the federation."

The MUCKER

by Edgar Rice Burroughs

CHAPTER XII
The Fight in the Palace

Barbara Harding heard the samurai in the room beyond her prison advancing toward the door that separated them from her. She pressed the point of the daimio's sword close to her heart. A heavy knock fell upon the door and at the same instant the girl was startled by a noise behind her—a noise at the little window at the far end of the room.

Turning to face this new danger, she was startled into a little cry of surprise to see the head and shoulders of the mucker framed in the broken square of the half demolished window.

The girl did not know whether to feel renewed hope or utter despair. She could not forget the heroism of her rescue by this brutal fellow when the Halfmoon had gone to pieces the day before, nor could she banish from her mind his threats of violence toward her, or his brutal treatment of Mallory and Theriere. And the question arose in her mind as to whether she would be any better off than his power than in the clutches of the savage samurai.

Byrne had heard the knock upon the door before which the girl knelt. He had seen the corpse of the dead man at her feet. He had observed the telltale position of the sword which he held to her breast and he had read much of the story of the impending tragedy at a glance.

"Cheer up, kid," he whispered. "I'll be with you in a minute, and there's out here too, to help you if I can't do it alone."

The girl turned toward the door again.

"Wait," she cried to the samurai upon the other side, "until I move the dead man, then you may come in, for their bodies bar the door now."

All that kept the warriors out was the fear that possibly Oda Yorimoto might not be dead after all, and that should they force their way into the room without his permission some of them would suffer for their temerity. Naturally none of them was keen to lose his head for nothing, but the moment that the girl spoke of the dead "men" they knew that Oda Yorimoto had been slain, and with one accord they rushed the little door.

The girl threw all her weight against her side, while the dead man, each to the extent of his own weight, aided the woman who had killed them in her effort to repulse their fellows; and behind the three Billy Byrne kicked and tore at the mud wall about the window in a frantic effort to enlarge the aperture sufficiently to permit his huge bulk to pass thru into the little room.

The mucker wove to the girl's side first, and snatching Oda Yorimoto's long sword from the floor he threw his great weight against the door, and commanded the girl to make for the window and escape to the forest as quickly as she could.

"There's no waiting here," he said. "He will see you de moment yeh reach de window, and don youse will be safe."

"But you!" cried the girl. "What of you?"

"Never yeh mifid me," commanded Billy Byrne. "Youse jes do as I tells yeh, see? Now, beat it," and he gave her a rough shove toward the window.

And then, between the combined efforts of the samurai upon one side and Billy Byrne of Kelly's gang upon the other the frail door burst from its rotten hinges and fell to one side.

The first of the samurai into the little room was cleft from crown to breast bone with the teen edge of the sword of the Lord of Yoka wielded by the mighty arm of the mucker. The second took the count with a left hook to the jaw, and then all that could crowd through the little door swarmed upon the husky bruiser from Grand avenue.

Barbara Harding took one look at the carnage behind her and then sprang to the window. At a short distance she saw the jungle and at its edge what she was sure was the figure of a man crouching in the long grass.

"Mr. Theriere!" she cried. "Quick! They are killing Byrne," and then she turned back into the room, and with the short sword which she still grasped in her hand sprang to the side of the mucker who was offering his life to save her.

"Fer de love o' Mike! Beat it!" he cried. "Duck! Get out o' here!"

But the girl only smiled up bravely into his face and kept her place beside him. The mucker tried to push her behind him with one hand while he fought with the other, but she drew away from him to come up again a little farther from him.

The samurai were pushing them closely now. Three men at a time were reaching for the mucker with their long swords. He was bleeding from numerous wounds, but at his feet lay two dead warriors, while a third had crawled away with a mortal wound in his abdomen.

Barbara Harding devoted her energies to thrusting and cutting at the mucker, that they might take him from behind. The battle could not last long, so unequal were the odds. She saw the room beyond filled with surging warriors all trying to force their way within reach of the great white man who battled like some demigod of old in the close, dark, evil warren of the daimio.

She shot a side glance at the man. He was wonderful! The fire of battle had transformed him. No longer was he the sulky, hulked brute she had first known upon the Halfmoon. Instead, huge, muscular, alert, he towered above his pygmy antagonists, his gray eyes gleaming, a half smile upon his strong lips.

APPARATUS AND DEVICES

By RALPH BROWN, RADIO ENGINEER

RADIO FREQUENCY TRANSFORMER

Radio frequency amplification offers unusual advantages in receiving radio signals of all types, especially radio phone or modulated waves over all other known methods of receiving. The use of audio amplification is familiar to operators and is known to be limited. A signal which is too weak to operate the detector tube can never be amplified by audio amplification, regardless of the number of stages used. After the signal is strong enough to operate the detector, audio amplification is very effective up to two stages. Audio amplification, beyond this, is limited by distortion and inherent audio tube noises.

By radio amplification the original weak signal is raised to a value for the effective operation of the detector tube. Regardless of how weak the signal is to start with, a proper radio amplification will bring it up to sufficient strength to make the detector function, after which audio amplification may be applied. Stations which are normally beyond range, can therefore, easily be received.

brought in by using radio amplification. A well designed radio amplifier is illustrated herewith.

GENERATORS AND MOTORS

In the preceding articles some laws of electric and magnetic circuits are discussed, and attention is directed to the relations between electric currents and magnetic fields. In the present and the succeeding articles certain practical applications will be described, in which use is made of all these laws, but which are based particularly on three experimental facts, namely, that—

1. When a conductor is moved across a magnetic field, an emf is induced in the conductor.
  2. When a conductor flows in a conductor in a magnetic field, a cross push is exerted on the conductor.
  3. When a current is sent round an iron core, the core is magnetized.
- The forces involved are not necessarily small, as is sometimes imagined, but may run into hundreds or even thousands of kilograms. Such forces can be used for power applications on a large scale, by means of machinery called "dynamo-electric" or, for short, "electrical" machinery.
- Electrical machines are used for converting power from a mechanical to an electrical form, or vice versa. If driven by some sort of prime mover, like a steam engine, gas engine, or water wheel, they are called "generators." If supplied with current and used to drive machinery, vehicles or other devices, thus converting electrical power into mechanical power, they are called "motors."
- While there are various types of motors and various types of generators, the difference is more in the use than in the construction or appearance; in fact, the difference between most motors and the corresponding types of generators is so slight that the same machine can be used for both purposes with no changes, or only minor ones. Electrical machines can be built for either direct or alternating current.

Steamship Lines Ask Action on Appeals

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Ten foreign steamship lines today filed petitions with the United States supreme court asking the court to take prompt action on their appeals to test the validity of Attorney-General Daugherty's ruling barring liquor from the American three-mile limit.

Briefs were filed by George W. Wickersham, attorney for the Cunard and Anchor lines. Expedient action on these cases has already been promised by the attorney-general.

Many New Faces to Be Seen in Congress

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Among the additional Republican stalwarts who went down to defeat definitely on additional returns, were Senators Kellogg of Minnesota, beaten by Dr. Hendrik Shipstead, Farmer-Laborite, and Senator Townsend of Michigan, the latter losing to former Governor Woodbridge N. Ferris, the first Democratic Senator to be elected from Michigan in seventy years. Also definitely defeated by Senator Kendrick, Democrat, was Representative Mondell of Wyoming, Republican floor leader, who aspired to the Senate.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, it finally turned out, had a plurality of 8425 over his Democratic opponent, Colonel Gaston. Instead of the meager 1945 reported early in the day.

Loss of control of the Senate by the Republicans was not threatened, although they suffered a net loss of six. Eight Republican Senators were defeated, but this the party countered by defeating two Democrat Senators, Hitchcock of Nebraska and Pomeroy of Ohio. The Republicans had carried eleven and Democrats nineteen of the thirty-five senatorial contests.

Of the five still in the balance, Democrats were leading in all—Montana, Utah, New Mexico, West Virginia and Washington.

For the first time the Farmer-Labor party will make an appearance on the Senate floor by the election of Dr. Hendrik Shipstead of Minnesota, victor over Senator Kellogg.

Many important committee vacancies, having a deep effect on legislation, must follow the will of the electors.

More than a dozen new faces will be seen in the next Senate. Among them are Senator-elect George, Democrat, Georgia; Ralston, Democrat, Indiana; Brookhart, Republican, Iowa; Shipstead, Farmer-Labor, Minnesota; Stephens, Democrat, Mississippi; Howell, Republican, Nebraska; Edwards, Democrat, New Jersey; Copeland, Democrat, New York; Fess, Republican, Ohio; Mayfield, Democrat, Texas; Greene, Republican, Vermont, and probably Neely, Democrat, West Virginia. Of these Stephens, Fess, Greene and Neely have house service behind them.

Violence Breaks Out in Constantinople

PARIS, Nov. 9.—Mob violence broke out in Constantinople Wednesday during which mob looted banks, according to unconfirmed reports received here today. The report was contained in a commercial message.

There were indications that the allied military authorities at Constantinople have established a censorship upon press messages.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY'S PAPER BASKET

"Uncle Wiggily, I don't like to find out," said Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one day, as she looked at the bunny rabbit gentleman, "but you'll have to do something about your room."

"What about it?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Do you want me to stand my room on its head so the ceiling is where the floor ought to be?"

"Nonsense! Of course not!" laughed Nurse Jane. "But I mean you'll have to pick up some of the many papers you have scattered about. It's a perfect nest of papers—your room is—and you must pick them up. Put them in a paper basket, bring them out in the yard and burn them."

"I will!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "I'll clean my room of papers, I'll set fire to them and in the fire I'll roast some potatoes. Thus shall I combine business and pleasure!"

"Oh, dear! There's no use trying to make you grow up!" sighed the muskrat lady housekeeper.

Uncle Wiggily only laughed and twinkled his pink nose. Then he hopped up to his room and saw that, indeed, as Nurse Jane had said, the floor was covered with waste paper and trash. Uncle Wiggily had a habit, when he finished reading a paper, of dropping it on the floor. In time the floor was covered with papers.

"What basket shall I put the papers in to carry down stairs?" Uncle Wiggily called to Nurse Jane.

"Get the big clothes basket from the laundry," she answered. "Sop Uncle Wiggily was stuffing and piling into the basket all the odds and ends of paper from his room."

"My! The basket is nearly full!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily, as he picked it up to carry down. "I had no idea there were so many papers in my room!"

Though the basket was full it was not heavy, for papers are light, you know. Down the stairs Uncle Wiggily hopped with the paper basket, and setting it in the kitchen, the bunny got some matches and also a few potatoes.

"For, if I make a fire to burn the papers, I may as well roast some potatoes in the blaze," thought Uncle Wiggily.

Out into the yard hopped the bunny. He started down toward the end of the yard, where there was a bare place on which it would be safe to burn the papers.

Setting the basket of papers down on the ground, Uncle Wiggily turned his pink nose this way and that. He wanted to see in what direction the wind was blowing, or, rather, he wanted to feel the wind. For his pink, twinkling nose was very tender and he could feel the least wind with it.

"The wind is in the west," said Uncle Wiggily. "I must light my fire on the west side."

You must always light a bonfire, you know, on the side where the wind is blowing. Then the wind carries the flames into the heart of the pile of wood and paper and makes a much better blaze.

Uncle Wiggily was about to tip up the paper basket and spill the papers out on the ground when, all of a sudden, there was a rustling in the bushes and a voice said:

"I think we can catch him now! I looked in the kitchen a moment ago, and he was putting some potatoes in his pocket. I think he is going off in the woods to have a potato roast, and there we'll get him."

"That will be fun!" growled a second voice behind the bush.

"Ha! Fun for you, but not for me!" whispered Uncle Wiggily.

"That's the Fox and Wolf!" went on the bunny. "I know their voices. They must have seen me through the kitchen window. They're waiting for me to come out. They haven't seen me here and don't know that I'm so near them. Oh, what shall I do?"

Then the bunny saw the big basket of papers, he had brought out.

"I'll hide in that, pulling the papers over my head," said Uncle Wiggily. Into the basket of papers the bunny crawled, hiding between them. Luckily the wind was blowing so hard, rustling the trees and the bushes, that the Fox and Wolf did not hear the rustling and rattling of papers as Uncle Wiggily hid in the basket.

When the bunny was well hidden, the Fox and Wolf stalked out. They looked at the paper basket, but they did not so much as dream that Uncle Wiggily was hiding in it.

"I wonder where that rabbit

BEAUTY CHATS

A PERFUME D BREATH

Hundreds of young girls write me in the course of a year asking either how to give the breath a delicate perfume or which is really serious, to rid the breath of an indelicate one. The most beautiful woman in the world, of course, would be offensive if her breath were so.

In my opinion the best odor the breath can have is none at all. Spund teeth and a healthy digestion will provide for that, unless there is some catarrhal trouble. Even a hint of catarrhal trouble means a constantly poisoned breath, and for that as well as for several other important reasons such trouble should immediately be treated. For the same reasons a dentist should be consulted frequently to keep the teeth sound and firm.

Simple, easily digested foods, and a few easy precautions will make you sure that stomach and bowels are in good running order. If all this is done the breath must be sweet and pure. Meantime, here is a hint a dentist gave me to remove tartar from the teeth, a frequent cause of bad breath. Put a little tincture of myrrh in a glass of water, enough to make a milky emulsion and rinse the mouth with this after brushing the teeth. This, he says, will make the tartar crumble away.

Another suggestion to make the breath pure, during temporary indigestion, is to drink a glass of cold water with five to fifteen

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

WE ALL DO IT SOMETIMES

The weather is supposed to be the eternal topic of conversation among people who are short of other topics to talk about.

I dispute its claim.

I know a subject almost as common and even more fertile and susceptible of enlargement.

I demand that the government assign a statistician and have him keep count of all the words that are spoken on the weather in this country and all the words that are spoken on the subject for which I claim an equal or almost equal fecundity.

What is the subject? Well, I will tell you by giving you an example of a recent conversation which I listened to.

Scene—A breakfast room, table set with melons.

Time—Breakfast.

Dramatic personae—Four breakfasters.

Hostess—I hope you won't mind not having oranges. They are hard to get at this season.

They're Off

First Guest—Oh, no, I adore melons. I'd rather have melons than oranges any day.

Second Guest—So had I, but my husband will never eat anything but oranges. If they aren't in season he simply won't eat any fruit.

Third Guest—Is that so? Now my husband never eats oranges at breakfast. He says they don't sit well with the cereal and cream. He likes them at other times but not at breakfast. He says he likes them but they don't like him.

First Guest (to second guest)—What are you doing? Putting salt on your melon? I can't see how you can stand that. I should think it would be perfectly awful.

Second Guest—I wouldn't eat them any other way. What do you eat on them?

First Guest—Oh, sugar of course. I couldn't bear to eat anything else. Could you (to the third guest)?

Third Guest—I don't eat any-

Diet and Health By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

HAY FEVER—No. 2

Hay fever begins something like an ordinary cold, with sneezing, congestion of the mucous membrane of the nose, and a free discharge. It differs, however, from an ordinary cold in this way. It is not infectious and the discharge usually remains watery. There is no danger of your catching hay fever from a person who is affected as there is in an acute cold. For true hay fever is due to an irritation caused by the pollens of different plants.

As I understand it, it is not due to a mechanical irritation of the pollens but to a poisoning by the absorption of their protein.

As I told you yesterday 90 per cent of the pollens that cause hay fever are from the rag weeds, amaranths, chenopods and docks and certain grasses. The rag weeds blooming in the spring and causing the spring fever and the others in the fall causing the fall fever. There are some forms of hay fever that bloom the year round in persons who are super-sensitive to different proteins, such as dandruff from dogs, horses and other animals and of the protein of certain foods.

It is said that rose fever is not a true hay fever but that the irritation caused by roses is more a reflex irritation rather than one due to absorption of the pollen.

In the report of a clinic conducted by a Dr. Scheppergrell in New Orleans, 53 per cent of 1000 cases of hay fever had asthma also. So it looks now as though asthma many times might be due to a super-sensitiveness of the mucous membrane to some protein.

Hay fever seems to have no particular partiality in choosing its victims. The farmer, contrary to the usual opinion, is as susceptible as the city man. The underlying condition that causes this sensitiveness of the mucous membrane to pollen is not fully understood.

Big Ship Helpless Far Out on Pacific

SEATTLE, Nov. 9.—Buffeted by heavy seas that carried away her rudder, the big ship Stuart Dollar, Captain A. Ridley, is drifting helpless today on the Pacific about 1800 miles from Seattle, and the powerful tug Sea Monarch is steaming full speed to her assistance. It will be six or seven days at least before the tug can reach the crippled vessel.

The vessel left Vancouver, B. C., October 25, for Japan and China with 9,000 tons of freight, mostly lumber. She was 1800 miles out at sea and 300 miles southwest of Unimak pass when she encountered the storm that carried away her rudder.

Merle Robinson, local manager for the Robert Dollar company, owner of the vessel, received a radio report from the ship late yesterday and immediately dispatched the tug. No further news was received by wireless during the night and messages will not be received today unless they are relayed by other vessels, it was said at the harbor radio department.

Water Controversy Is Started Today

SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 9.—The first session of the Colorado river commission with Secretary of Commerce Hoover presiding got under way here today with delegates and attendance representing all of the seven western states involved in the controversy over the distribution of the waters of the Colorado river.

The conference was being held at Bishops Lodge, four miles from the city.

It is expected the meeting will decide upon ways and means of parceling out to individual states the water benefits which will result from the development of the resources of the great Colorado basin.

Tile Company Sells Business Building

R. E. Johnston, manager of the Concrete Brick and Tile Co., reports the sale of a large public garage and store building to George A. Tobin, of Alhambra. The work is located at 2013 San Fernando boulevard. It will require about 25,000 tile, which is the equivalent to more than 125,000 brick. The walls will be twelve and one-half inches throughout.

Mr. Tobin stated yesterday that he was interested in the tile because of its greater strength and durability. The tile will also serve to form a waterproof wall.

Borrowed umbrellas cast the shadow of suspicion.

Quits Street Car to Become Preacher
 CLARKSBURG, W. Va.—Seventeen years a street car conductor and motorman, Carl B. Johnson of Clarksburg, became a minister today.

The veteran employee of the Monongahela Power Company turned in the controller of his car and left for Parsons with his family, to become pastor of the Methodist Protestant church.

A decade ago Johnson was asked to give a little talk at a gathering of employees in the car barns. He told of everyday experiences and added a few fragments from the Bible to draw comparisons. The addresses appealed to the employees and Johnson spoke regular after that.

 FLINT, Mich.—Mike Keldon was arrested following what police term a too literal translation of the welcome sign in front of the Presbyterian church.

Mike lingered before the sign, then as its meaning percolated through his head entered the church. From the seat in the front row he grinned appreciatively as the choir sang the anthem. Then he volunteered a solo of his own. First one popular ballad and then another he sang before the police arrived.

ANNEXATION MASS MEETING TONIGHT AT EAGLE ROCK

Judge Cruzan and Godfrey Edwards Are Reported on Oratorical Program

A large gathering of Eagle Rock citizens is expected tonight to attend the annexation mass meeting to be held in the auditorium of the Eagle Rock Central school house.

The plans of the committee in charge call for an open debate as to whether or not it is advisable at this time to annex to Los Angeles. It is understood that Godfrey Edwards will speak in the affirmative, but just who is to champion the cause of those opposed to annexation has not yet been announced. It is believed, however, that Judge Cruzan, who is known as a staunch supporter of those against annexation, is being urged to make an address.

Every one present will be free to voice their opinions, the committee in charge announces. As the annexation proposition is without doubt one of the most debatable questions in Eagle Rock at this time, it is believed that the meeting will create considerable interest.

While the meeting is sponsored by those in favor of annexation, it is not likely to be a one-sided affair, as both sides are reported anxious to have a full discussion. The meeting is scheduled to start at 7:30 sharp.

Riches Fail to Make Up for Lost Love
 PROVIDENCE, R. I.—Helress to $50,000 by the will of her employer and sweetheart for a score of years, Miss Helen Furth, a shabbily dressed little woman, who seemingly has not yet realized that she is wealthy, today cried out from the depths of her wretchedness:

"What good is money to me now that he is gone? It will always remain to mock me and to remind me of the pleasure we might have enjoyed together."

Then, for the first time, Miss Furth revealed the romance, which for twenty years had existed between herself and Adolph Lederer, Providence jeweler manufacturer—how they had been companions, but always had put off and put off the day of their marriage until too late.

Stated at her great roll-topped desk, the little woman said:

"We worked together from morning to night for more than twenty years, with no thought but the building up of his splendid business. Now he is not here to appreciate it."

"We had no time to play. We worked always, and what joy and beauty we knew we found in our work. Some day we intended to take a wonderful vacation together and drink our fill of leisure, romance and luxury. But now it is too late."

"We became engaged in 1916, but decided not to marry until we had more money. We waited long. We should have taken our happiness when life offered it to us."

Playmates' Actions Scare Boy to Death
 CHICAGO.—This is a story of a boy whose playmates were cruel to him, as children sometimes are to those they do not accept as equals.

This little boy was sick. All the nine years of his life he had been weak. He couldn't play as others did. He couldn't attend school.

"Raymond," his playmates told him when he went into the street, "the truant officers'll get you if you don't watch out."

"They'll put you in a big, black dungeon where there's rats 'n' everything."

At first Raymond paid little heed. A constant repetition stirred his imagination with horrors. He grew afraid that some day the juvenile court would send for him. He stayed at home.

The next day Raymond Newkirk was in the living room of his mother's flat at 3245 Mespratt street.

He heard footsteps in the hallway with listening ears, and a pounding heart to opened on the door. Suddenly it opened and a woman entered.

ANDERSON BOOTS BALL 65 YARDS

Trojan Player Is Doing Much Better Work With His Toe, Is Reported

"Gloomy Gus" Henderson of U. S. C. broke into a new set of smiles this afternoon—in fact he assumed the first optimistic attitude since he read the final score of the Trojan-Bear combat. And all the joy came from the information that Otto Anderson, the Trojans' only bet in kicking, has been booting the pigskin sixty and sixty-five yards.

At the beginning of the season the Trojans lacked two essentials to their football eleven; a punter and a pair of good ends. Santa Claus came around in the fall and dropped Phythian, Milton and Boice on the Trojan campus and the wing question was a matter of history. But there was always the punting question facing "Gloomy Gus" before each game.

Half of the California battle can be placed with the booting. Both Campbell and Morrison do not profess to be punters and both men were forced to do the kicking. Campbell because Henderson wished to work a triple threat around him; and Morrison because California needed his line punting more than they did Nesbitt's punting. The punts were nothing to brag about and if Anderson had been able to play his boots would undoubtedly have gained a great deal more yardage for the Trojans.

Anderson will start against Stanford at fullback. The Trojan kicker has only one thing against him and that is experience. This is his first year on the varsity and his second year of football. He is still green, but Henderson expects his booting to outweigh his experience.

In last week's game with Occidental, quarterback Harold Galloway showed a world of speed combined with a side motion that kept the Tiger men guessing. Harold hasn't been used very much this year, but will be given a chance to show his stuff before the Cardinals.

Twenty-eight pigskin maulers, trainers, coaches and water boys leave this evening for San Francisco where they will do secret practice Friday afternoon and be prepared to journey over to Stanford on Saturday with the hope of knocking out the Cards by a big score, but just enough to give Stanford one defeat in their percentage column.

Among the men who leave Thursday are: Head Coach "Gloomy Gus" Henderson; assistant coaches, Hunter, Cliff Reid and William Hess; Captain Leo Culand, Baker, Campbell, Kincaid, Harold Galloway, Otto Anderson, Tiernan, Wayahn, Dolley, Riddle, Norman Anderson, Boice, Milton, Phythian, Lindley, Adams, Newman, Hawkins, Cummings and Freeman.

The Sport Crucible

By Davis J. Walsh

International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—A tip came to this writer some days ago that Centre college would not be asked by fair Harvard to renew its intersectional relations on the gridiron in 1923. In support of this comes the report of Philadelphia that Centre had requested a game on the Pennsylvania schedule for next season.

Just why Harvard, having previously declared itself on the intersectional proposition, should wish to dispose of an opponent that has drawn upward of 150,000 persons to the stadium in three seasons is not altogether clear. But it is evident that Centre college, in making overtures to Pennsylvania, has seen the well known handwriting on the equally well known wall.

It is said that Harvard means to replace Centre with the best attraction the great open spaces of the west affords. Michigan, Wisconsin and Notre Dame were mentioned, tentatively, as possibilities that might be lured to

FLEET TEAMS TO CLASH SATURDAY

Real Football Fight to Be Staged Armistice Day on School Gridiron

Armistice Day football games will be well worth attending, according to Coach Normal C. Hayhurst, head of the physical education department at Glendale Union high school.

The main game of the afternoon will be between two fleet teams, one from the flagship California and the other from the supply ship Vestal.

"The Idaho had the Pacific Fleet championship last year," remarked Mr. Hayhurst. "The California defeated them last Saturday at San Pedro. They played hard and fast and California held them right straight through."

The main game of the afternoon will be between two fleet teams, one from the flagship California and the other from the supply ship Vestal.

Although the Vestal team is not as heavy as the California team, it is faster. Its star player is Hartzell, who is reported to be one of the best tackles in the fleet. He has succeeded in stopping every opponent so far. Of the California team, Reichert, who weighs 235 pounds, and Saunders were both picked last season for the All Pacific Fleet. Kincaid and Conaty both have the reputation of being very clever offensive men.

"I really think it will be a very good game," remarked Mr. Hayhurst. "I think we will have a very lively time."

The high school gridiron is now being prepared for the event. To the bleachers already on the field have been added the bleachers from the grammar schools and a number from U. S. C. Altogether seats will be provided for 3500 or 4000 spectators.

Whether or not the Golden Bears march down the field for victory and leave a battered Washington team on the stadium floor, the southerners are in for the game of their lives, if fighting spirit counts. Coach Bagshaw has succeeded in working his men into a "do or die" spirit that is going to send them into Saturday's game to check the Bears and possibly defeat them. It's a great thing, this spirit stuff, and has worked wonders before now.

But, viewed with a coldly practical eye, the Washington team has very little chance of smashing the Bear machine.

'Wonder' Team Due In Seattle Tonight
 SEATTLE, Nov. 9.—The famous California "wonder team," with Coach Andy Smith and camp followers is scheduled to arrive in Seattle at 10:30 o'clock tonight from Portland.

Not in years has a football game aroused as much interest as is manifested over the impending clash between Coach Bagshaw's University of Washington gridironers and the Californians in the stadium on Saturday. To judge from the advance sale of tickets there will be between 35,000 and 45,000 in the stands when the two teams take the field.

BOXING PROGRAM PLEASING TO FANS

M. W. A. Show Wins the Approval of Fans; Lots of Action Results

With four technical knockouts out of five bouts last night's card at the weekly Modern Woodmen of America boxing program, held at 1500 South San Fernando road, was probably the most interesting that has ever been staged by that organization. The main event, which was a tilt between Christopher Columbus and Joe Kelly, was the only bout which did not result in a knockout, although it was evident that Kelly could have put over the winning punch almost at any time of the fight. He easily outpointed his lighter opponent in every one of the four rounds.

In the semi-windup, which started out like a whirlwind, came to an abrupt ending in the latter part of the third round when "Hot Dog" Vining lost the use of his left hand through a dislocated thumb. Until that time "Hot Dog" had been leading his larger and more rangy opponent, but his seconds were forced to throw in the sponge. "Kid" Wop was the winner.

Harry Tufo, who appeared to be one of the cleverest boxers on the entire program stopped "Frisch" Cleary in the second round of their scheduled four-round battle. Both boys fought a snappy battle, and each was accorded a big hand on leaving the ring.

For the first time in several weeks local boxing fans were privileged to witness a heavy-weight battle, the opposing slugger being Jaurez and Johnnie Edwards. Although the latter was thoroughly game he was handicapped by his short stature and limiting reach, which resulted in his being stopped at the beginning of the third round.

The bout was a slugfest and drew considerable amusement from the audience.

In the curtain raiser "Kid" Rickey knocked out John Brown at the close of the first round, the bell being the only salvation of the plucky little 115-pounder. The three-minute rest did not prove sufficient for a revival and he was decisively stopped within a few seconds after the beginning of the third period.

This afternoon the northerners are expected to engage in a light workout in the Bay City, in order that they may not become "rain stale," after which they will embark for southern California to be on the stamping grounds a full day ahead of the battle.

Strong Line-up
 The Multnomah line-up for the Olympic game, according to an announcement made yesterday by Coach Faulk, will be the strongest that ever represented the club and will probably go on the field slight favorites over the San Francisco team.

With a backfield composed of such men as "Bill" Steers, Brandenburg, "Mike" Moran and Jacobberger, and such reserves as "Clipper" Smith, Rinehart, Baker Briggs and Workman, the Multnomah athletic authorities seem to have collected the most sensational and capable array of ball-carrying talent in the history of club football.

Practically every one of the group is well known in southern California, most of them having formerly been stars on college teams in the Pacific coast conference. Steers, Moran, Jacobberger and Brandenburg are all men who have starred for their respective alma maters during the past few years.

On the line Faust will be flanked by Pelouze, regarded by many as the most efficient end who ever cavorted on a Stanford university eleven, and "Speed" Morrison. Both are known quantities and give promise of causing "Rabbit" Bradshaw, Jack Patrick, et al., a considerable amount of worry before the end of Saturday's game. Rose and Lundison will be held on the bench unless one of these two are forced out of the game.

All Big Men
 The two tackle berths will be ably filled by a pair selected from Hale, Busch, Hoden and Bartlett, any of whom is above the average lineman. They are all big men, although they are expected to experience no little difficulty in attempting to stop the Olympic club line which is to be composed of "Fat" Latham, Cort Majors and several additional forwards of known repute.

Strahan and Johnson have been selected to alternate at one of the guard positions, while the other will be filled by "Bustem" Butler. Stewart will start at center, with Pallett held in reserve.

Bruins Arrive for Washington Contest
 PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 9.—The Golden Bears, eager for the titular clash against University of Washington at Seattle on Saturday, arrived here this morning from the south.

The "wonder team" detrained long enough to work out on Multnomah field. Many fans were on hand to see Andy Smith's men in action but the gates were closed to all spectators.

Smith said he expected a hard battle, despite the overwhelming victory his men scored over Washington State college.

The Californians were guests of Multnomah club and planned to leave on an early afternoon train for Seattle.

French Boxing Board May Disqualify Siki

Football Fans Wonder at Action of Bears

PARIS, Nov. 9.—The "rough-neck" tactics of Battling Siki, Senegalese negro, who won the light heavyweight championship of Europe by knocking out Georges Carpentier, may lose him his prize ring honors, it was generally believed in sporting circles today.

Bets of 2 to 1 were made that the French boxing federation will disqualify Siki permanently from the French prize ring and declare his title forfeited.

"Last week I formally notified Siki that a repetition of his rough tactics would mean disqualification," said Franz Reichert, secretary of the French boxing federation, to International News Service today. "I told Siki that boxing is a gentlemanly sport and must rely upon gentlemen for its support. Siki promised to be good. He even offered to join the French army as evidence of his good faith."

The riot resulting at Sallewagram last night when Siki knocked down Manager Cuny in the ring, was most regrettable. It all happened because Balzac, the fighter whom Siki had knocked out, was picked up by Cuny and his own second.
